INQUIRY INTO BROADCASTING IN DOMINION

Committee of Commons Expected to Be Named When Parliament Meets in January; Information Desired on Commission's Administration; General Manager Suggested

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 29.—A parliamentary committee may be established when the new House of Commons meets in January to investigate radio broadcasting in Canada, and particularly the administration of the Radio Commission, it was learned to-day.

It was understood every phase of broadcasting would be inquired into, including the possibility of regulating broadcasting by a general manager instead of a commission of three. During the election campaign Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King took exception to certain broadcasts under the name "Mr. Sage" and promised reform of broadcasting regulations to stop abuse of public men. It is probable the "Mr. Sage" broadcast will be investigated.

J. Livermore Jr. Shot By Mother

Son of Wall Street Operator Lies Near Death at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Associated Press
Santa Barbara, Calif., Nov. 29.—Jesse Livermore Jr., fifteen, son of the famous Wall Street operator, was probably fatally wounded early to-day. Under-sheriff Jack Ross said Livermore's mother fired the shot.

"I was notified of the shooting by Dr. Neville Usher, who was summoned to the Livermore home by a guest who witnessed the shooting," Ross said. "I went to the hospital, where I ascertained that both Livermore and his mother were hospitalized. Mrs. Livermore was placed under arrest at the hospital, with a guard at her bedside. She is still too intoxicated to talk."

ARGUMENT REPORTED
"From what I learned in talking to a guest at the home, D. Neville, the mother and her son became engaged in an argument over his drinking. Mrs. Livermore told the boy she would rather see him dead than drink to excess. The boy then went to a closet, got a .22 rifle and handed it to her saying: 'Well, here you are.' Mrs. Livermore took the rifle and fired. The bullet entered the boy's chest. His condition is critical and it is doubtful if he will recover."

The mother was married to Livermore in 1917. They were divorced in 1922. She later married J. Walter Longcope and was divorced from him last year. She was the former Miss Dorothy Wendt of Brooklyn.

SEARCH TO BE MADE FOR SOUTH POLE FLIERS

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 29.—Six days since Lincoln Ellsworth and his pilot, Herbert Hollek-Kenyon of Winnipeg, disappeared while flying over the Antarctic continent, the outside world still waited to-day for word of their whereabouts and their condition.

In a wireless message to The New York Times and The North American Newspaper Alliance, the Wyatt Earp, Ellsworth's base ship, reported it had moved closer to the Bay of Whales preparatory to starting a search for the men.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 29.—Investigation of the reported abduction and robbery of E. G. Miller, collector of the Traders' Finance Corporation, was under way to-day.

Miller, found bound and gagged in Stanley Park yesterday afternoon, told police he had been kidnapped by two bandits from in front of the Hotel Vancouver, forced into an automobile and driven to the park, where he was tied and robbed of $400 of his employees' money, a number of checks and $8 of his own money. Miller said he had left the company's office in the Vancouver Block, corner of Granville and Georgia Streets, and was crossing the street to the Bank of Montreal branch in the Hotel Vancouver when the men stepped up beside him.

FORCED INTO AUTO
One of the bandits thrust some object, apparently a revolver, against Miller, forcing him to get into the car.

No More Pain In Filling Teeth By Hartman Discovery

Victoria Boy, Now in New York, Introduces New Desensitizer Which Columbia University Will Control

Dr. Leroy Hartman, a native son of Victoria, who is now professor of dentistry in the School of Dental and Oral Surgery, New York City, is credited with the discovery of a new desensitizer, which, it is said, will revolutionize the practice of dentistry by eliminating pain and that "drill" feeling in the preparation and filling of tooth cavities.

The announcement from New York last night came as a surprise to the dental world. No comment was forthcoming this morning from local dentists, who are anxious to get further information on the desensitizer. Some dentists admitted, however, that it would have to involve a radical change as from present knowledge no desensitizer could penetrate the enamel of the tooth.

The despatch from New York telling of the discovery is as follows:—"A brief meaning may soon be given that ominous dental admonition to 'open wider, please; this isn't going to hurt much.'"

"Columbia University yesterday announced discovery of a revolutionary and harmless pain-desensitizer by Dr. Leroy L. Hartman, formerly of Victoria, B.C., and now professor of dentistry in the School of Dental and Oral Surgery."

"Medical claims attached to the new desensitizer state it is expected to revolutionize the practice of dentistry by eliminating pain and that..."

All Members of League Stand Together, Declares Premier Laval as World Hears Italians Talk of Striking British Fleet in Mediterranean if Oil Sanction Enforced; League Committee Called to Meet December 12 and Oil Embargo on Italy Expected Soon to Follow

Associated Press
London, Nov. 29.—Authoritative sources disclosed to-day that Premier Laval of France had warned Italy directly and officially that an unprovoked attack by Italy against Great Britain would be considered an attack against France.

His warning, described as a virtual ultimatum, was delivered to Ambassador Vittorio Cerruti of Italy in Paris.

Premier Laval took this action, it was said, after Sir George Russell Clerk, British ambassador, had asked the French Premier to remind Italy directly that all members of the League of Nations were standing together to resist attacks. The warning, direct and official, was considered most important.

High quarters expressed the belief the League of Nations oil embargo sanction against Italy would go into effect soon after December 12, when the committee of eighteen will meet in Geneva.

Paris, Nov. 29 (Associated Press).—Great Britain was reported by informed sources to-day to have achieved its long-sought assurance of French support in case of an Italian attack on the British in the Mediterranean.

It was stated Premier Laval, who previously delayed League of Nations action on the proposal of an oil embargo against Italy, had given in to the British demand for action on the subject, thereby wrecking Italian hopes for further delay.

Yielding to the insistence of British Ambassador Sir George Russell Clerk, these sources said, Premier Laval made clear to Italian Ambassador Vittorio Cerruti that if L. Duce did anything "desperate" in the Mediterranean, France and other League of Nations powers would stand solidly, unreservedly behind Britain.

The European crisis arising from Italy's war in Ethiopia and application of League penalties against the Fascist nation thus approached a climax, diplomatic sources said, reviving hopes Italy might soon be ready to consider negotiating a settlement.

A high Italian authority was reported by the noted French com-

Nanking Government Charges Japanese Army With Responsibility For "Autonomy" Movement in North China

Associated Press
Nanking, Nov. 29.—The central Chinese government charged Japanese army openly and directly to-day with responsibility for the north China autonomy movement in a sharply worded protest filed with Japan by the Foreign Office.

This protest followed closely an earlier note, submitted to the Japanese embassy, protesting seizure by Japanese troops Wednesday of the important railway junction point of Fengtai, just east of Peking, in the area agitated by self-rule demands.

"According to old dental theories, Dr. Hartman said, deadening solutions were forced into the tooth, nerves, or attempts were made to block the nerve supply to the tooth.

Dr. Hartman was born in Victoria, the family for years living on the south side of Yates Street just east of Cook. He went to the Boys' Central School and from there into Victoria High School and college.

Miss Bertha Hartman, who had taken up singing, became a member of the Metropolitan Opera. She is now married, and living in Chicago. A brother, Albert, who is a doctor of philosophy, and was also born and given his early education here, is with the family in New York.

Clothing Stains Are Evidence

H. O'Donnell, Accused of Killing Ruth Taylor, Given Hearing in Toronto

Canadian Press
Toronto, Nov. 29.—Mudstains, dark reddish stains and blue woolen fibres were found on the clothing Harry O'Donnell said he wore the night Ruth Taylor was killed, according to evidence at the preliminary hearing to-day. O'Donnell is charged with murdering the twenty-year-old stenographer in a criminal assault in an east end ravine the night of November 4.

Detective Sergeant James McIlwraith told how the body of Miss Taylor was found the following day, clothing disarranged, the skull beaten in. Blood-stained garments were produced in court, and a blue woolen sweater identified.

FOUNDED OUT CLOTHES
Police went to O'Donnell's home after picking him up at the filling station where he worked. McIlwraith related O'Donnell pointed out clothes he had worn on the night of November 4.

The overcoat and vest of O'Donnell's dark suit were damp and bore tiny blue wool fibres or threads; the clothing was mudstained and many hairs adhered, the detective sergeant continued. There was a dark reddish stain on the trousers and on the brim of the brown hat.

He described examination of O'Donnell, who was asked to account for his movements that night.

SAW THREE TALKING
O'Donnell's statement, as taken down, revealed he had visited his wife in a hospital and then gone to a hotel beverage room. He left there between 11:20 and 11:35 p.m. and walked home alone, passing by the ravine where the body was found next day. He saw a man and two women walking separately by the ravine at the time he passed it. He said he passed the ravine on the opposite side of the road, turned up his own street and went home to bed. He said he took his wife to the maternity hospital early Saturday and slept Saturday and Sunday nights at his mother's home.

ON STREET CAR
Charles Cox, street car motorman, said he knew Miss Taylor by sight as she lived on the street next to him. When his car reached the corner of Coxwell and Gerard Streets in the east end at 11:37 o'clock on the night of the murder he noticed by his mirror that Miss Taylor and a man were the only passengers remaining.

They both got off the car there, the man by the rear door and Ruth Taylor by the front door. He described the man as young, round-faced and fair, wearing a peak cap. Cox was sure the man was not O'Donnell.

HAD LOST
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 29.—Joseph Hook was quoted to-day as saying he "knew all the time" his daughter Mildred, twenty-two, would be found dead somewhere in Idaho. The girl's body, with the head crushed, was discovered in a ravine near Berger, Idaho, this morning.

Mr. Hook's asserted statement was relayed by a family spokesman, who said the fifty-year-old Tacoma mystic writer was near collapse after his long telephone vigil. Mrs. Hook, mother of the pretty divorcee, was also under a doctor's care.

The spokesman said Mr. and Mrs. Hook did not plan to go to Idaho to claim the body. The girl's brothers, Clyde and Vincent, were in Twin Falls, where they had expected to aid in searching for her. The spokesman said they would undoubtedly claim the body.

his side, warned him against making an outcry and ordered him into an automobile which was standing at the curb. He obeyed and, being compelled to lie on the floor of the rear seat, was driven to Stanley Park, where he was ordered out near second beach.

His captors covered the lower part of their faces with scarfs and marched him over several trails into the woods and then forty-five feet from a trail into the bush. There they gagged him with his own handkerchief, bound his hands behind him with tape and, compelling him to squat down with his legs crossed, tied his ankles together. He was then searched and robbed.

FELL INTO DITCH
After struggling for some time, Miller eventually gained his feet and by "kipping" he reached the side of the road. There he lost his balance and fell face downward in a ditch and was unable to arise.

Several persons drove by the spot, but he was unable to attract their attention. Finally he was sighted by A. Fader, truck driver, and released. Police were called.

The collector was unable to give a good description of the features of his abductors as they kept their faces turned from him before they donned the masks.

A party of citizens, lying in a roadside ditch near Hollister south of here.

TWO SEPARATED
He told Sheriff Prater he and the girl had separated after abandoning their automobile and wandering across the fields for some time, because they considered he would have a better chance at escaping if he struck out alone.

The search for Miss Hook covered a wide territory in this vicinity.

WORSTED MILL SITE IS OUT

REVISED TERMS
At yesterday afternoon's meeting the committee decided to recommend to the City Council the rental of the corner of Coxwell and Gerard Streets in the east end at 11:37 o'clock on the night of the murder he noticed by his mirror that Miss Taylor and a man were the only passengers remaining.

They both got off the car there, the man by the rear door and Ruth Taylor by the front door. He described the man as young, round-faced and fair, wearing a peak cap. Cox was sure the man was not O'Donnell.

The terms drafted for the proposed lease covered a rental charge of $600 a year for the first five years, $750 a year for the next five and $1,000 a year for the ensuing ten years, if the lease were continued.

The committee also decided to recommend to the council that it go on record as suggesting to the City Council sitting at the end of the first five-year lease period, the advisability of holding a plebiscite to determine the people's wishes regarding the outright sale of the building to the picture interests at a price to be set at that date.

WANT CASH PUT UP
The committee also brought in a provision in its report framed for Monday evening's council meeting, that Mr. Barsky and his associates put up $25,000 in cash as a manifestation of good faith in the undertaking, before any repairs were made to the woolen mill building. This was at the request of Ald. Walter Lunney.

Alderman Archie Willis asked the committee to instruct the city building inspector to prepare a report for the City Council on the costs of raising the roof of the mill building, the construction of a new roof, the removal of machinery at present housed there and the putting in of a new floor. He felt the council should know what it had to pay if the deal went through.

Ald. Willis also wanted to know what would happen if after the city went to the expense of altering the building and the promoters said they were then unsatisfactory, who would accept the loss. He pointed to the losses from fog-horns, boats, shunting engines and vehicular traffic.

There was considerable discussion over the amount of land that went with the woolen mill, the promoters understanding that it included nine acres, while Mayor Leeming insisted it was less than three acres. City officials were called in and accompanied the promoters on a visit to the property. The promoters then announced that there was too much noise in the vicinity for sound recording.

Premier States Conference Case

(a) "Questions which will require amendments to the British North America Act.

(b) "Questions in which the provinces and the Dominion are mutually interested and upon which there should be co-operation and agreement."

"In addition to the questions which will be discussed at the conference, there are a number of matters of importance which our government desires to discuss with the Dominion Government without reference to the conference, as, for example, the disposition of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway."

"It is not expected that all matters at issue can be finally disposed of during the sitting of the approaching conference, but we do hope to come to definite understanding in respect of a number of questions of major importance, and to make progress in others. Further negotiation and conference will doubtless be necessary.

URGENT QUESTIONS
"To mention two or three questions of special urgency, there is the matter of the respective jurisdictions of the Dominion and the provinces with regard to taxation. While amendments to the B.N.A. Act are necessary in this respect, we hope to come to agreement on adjustments which will greatly improve our position, and will enable us to likewise improve the position of the municipalities."

"Then there is the problem of unemployment in all its various phases. Without question increase of industrial endeavor internally as well as through trade agreements is of primary importance, but it will take time to so increase business as to absorb all the unemployed, and it is proposed to press for a generous programme of public undertakings as auxiliary in meeting this problem."

DEBT CHARGES
"It is proposed also to press for reduction in debt charges."

"I need not further detail at this time."

The strength of the Dominion lies in the strength of its component parts, and the people of British Columbia may be assured that we shall endeavor to represent their cause worthily."

Leaving here to-night, the Premier will take the train out of Vancouver to-morrow night

FARM INCOME IN U.S. GROWING

Larger Crops and More
Hogs in Corn Belt in 1936
Predicted

Des Moines, Nov. 29.—Midwest agricultural experts compared notes to-day and predicted bigger crops and more money for United States corn belt farmers in 1936.

Briefly, a survey of farm leader opinion gave this picture of 1936 farm prospects:

Total farm income slightly above 1935.
Less need for long term credit, but a stronger demand for short term loans.

An increase in hog production which will bring the output to near normal levels by the fall of 1936.

A slightly higher average price for hogs during the 1935-36 marketing year.

A slight increase in corn production, but no important change in output of other feed grain crops.

With average yields, a slight increase in wheat production over 1935.

An increase in the number of grain fed cattle, with a moderate decline in fat cattle prices during the late winter and spring.

An expected 10 per cent increase in consumer ability to buy farm products, due to improved business conditions.

Police Dog Gets Diploma of Honor

"Dale," Regular on Staff of R.C.M.P. at Calgary, Is Recognized for Rescue of Child

Calgary, Nov. 29.—"Dale," German shepherd dog, who has had a remarkable career in the saving of life and detection of crime as a regular staff member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Calgary headquarters, received a "diploma of honor" yesterday.

Last July, after human searchers had failed in a twenty-four-hour hunt for a two-year-old girl, the daughter of Mrs. Robert Simpson, who had wandered from her farm-home near Carstairs, Alta., Dale was brought to the scene. In a wheat field, the dog found the girl.

For this rescue, Dale was awarded the diploma by the publishers of a Chicago dog magazine. The diploma will occupy a prominent position on the wall at the R.C.M.P. headquarters here.

DATE OF SUIT IS POSTPONED

Charlotte, N.C., Nov. 29.—Second trial of P. Brandon Smith's $250,000 alienation of affections suit against his father-in-law, Joseph F. Cannon, has been postponed until next year because of the illness of Mrs. Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith. It was announced to-day.

Defence counsel, who arranged for the postponement from December 4, said the former Mrs. Smith, Cannon's daughter, had undergone an operation in Philadelphia recently and was not able to appear at this time.

Mrs. Smith, who was divorced from Smith Reynolds, late heir to the Reynolds tobacco fortune, a short time before her marriage to the young Charlotte real estate operator, was the chief witness for the defence at the first trial here last spring, which resulted in a $125,000 verdict for Smith. That verdict was set aside as excessive by Judge W. F. Harding, and a new trial ordered.

ONTARIO M.P.P. TO FACE COURT

Gananoque, Ont., Nov. 29.—A verdict that Joseph "Mollann," elderly cheese manufacturer, "came to death at Seely's Bay on November 24 by being struck by a car driven by Arthur Ellis, M.P.P. for Ottawa South, who was guilty of driving at an excessive speed through the village, taking into consideration the mechanical condition of his brakes," was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday.

Mr. Ellis, on bail of $2,000, is to appear in court in Gananoque on charges of criminal negligence and driving a motor car with defective brakes.

Kobe, Nov. 29.—Dr. C. T. Wang, former Foreign Minister in the Nanking Government, arrived here yesterday from Shanghai on the same ship with Vice-President Garner of the United States and his party, en route back to Washington from Manila. Dr. Wang denied he had any special diplomatic mission from Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Nanking dictator, delegates attending the Congress of Australian Trade Unions at Melbourne. The vote was seventy-eight to forty-one.

Liquor Advertising To End in Alberta

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 29.—All liquor advertising, including daily and weekly newspapers, billboards, placards, radio and all other media, must stop February 1, under a regulation of the Alberta government through the Liquor Control Board. The change was announced by Premier Aberhart after a cabinet meeting yesterday. The advertising ban will apply to hard liquor, beer and wine alike. It has been estimated that newspaper revenue from such advertising in this province has averaged about $75,000 a year in the past.

It has been estimated that 110,000,000 people speak German.

TWO ARE GIVEN TERMS IN JAIL

Calgary, Nov. 29.—Jack Reid pleaded in court he did not want any leniency shown him that could not be granted his pal, Jay Clayton, when he appeared in court here yesterday.

Both were convicted of being in possession of $800 worth of merchandise stolen from a freight car and they received the same sentence—three years in the penitentiary at hard labor.

Leniency had been recommended for Reid because he assisted the police in recovering some of the stolen merchandise.

MOTION PICTURES HERE

CONSIDERING PROPOSALS FOR CONcessions from the city for experimental motion picture production here, the civic authorities should make every provision for the protection of the taxpayers against loss if the venture should not succeed. However much private individuals might engage in an enterprise which, unless it is sponsored by an established company with adequate resources must be regarded as speculative, the City Council is not justified in assuming more than a nominal risk for the community.

The lease of city property for experimental purposes on moderate terms pending the outcome of such an experiment might be justifiable and, in the case of the woolen mills from which no taxation has been derived for some years this charge, for a time, might be suspended; but steps should be taken to enable the city to get more than publicity if the venture turned out well. Nor should the city have to raise the roof, repair the floor and remove the machinery at the mill building at its own expense. Incidentally, it should be borne in mind that a company already is filming a play here with no other concessions from the community than the use of an almost negligible rental of a building at the exhibition grounds.

While Victoria, like every other community on this continent, desires to see this industry established, and will give encouragement to interests which have reasonable prospects of success, the many costly lessons it has had in bag-holding for various industrial promotions should have taught it how to drive as hard a bargain in its interests as promoters have been able to drive in their own behalf.

OF COURSE HE DOES

SIR E. W. BEATTY, PRESIDENT OF THE
Canadian Pacific Railway, says the new trade agreement between Canada and the United States is "a step in the right direction," and that "we must endorse the policy of greater trade—we can not live without it."

Mr. Beatty's endorsement of the new reciprocal trading pact was not unexpected. He is the chief executive of one of the greatest transportation systems in the world—a business which prospers or languishes as trade increases or decreases.

Six years ago neither of Canada's transcontinental railway systems was complaining of its turnover. Ten years ago we well recall Mr. Beatty's frequent pronouncements that business continued to be on the up-grade. It was and continued to remain so during the next five years. The general collapse in 1929, of course, dislocated the economic structure of this continent, but Canada would not have felt its effects so acutely if in 1930 trade-restricting policies had not been instituted.

It was largely this condition which caused the officials of the two transcontinental railway systems to study their annual balance sheets with apprehension. But the tide seems to be turning and railroad executives may look ahead with greater confidence.

A FAITHFUL PUBLIC OFFICIAL

THE TRIBUTE OF ESTEEM WHICH
was tendered yesterday to Mr. F. W. Davey, O.B.E., by the staff of the Victoria Customs Department on his retirement from the collectorship of that service, expressed a sentiment which extends away beyond the boundaries of officialdom. Mr. Davey has been a resident of this city for sixty years, and in any case would have had a wide acquaintance and a large circle of friends here, but his long association with an important public service brought him into contact with the community in a sense which would not have been possible in many other circumstances, and enabled him to gain the goodwill of the public in a peculiarly intimate way. He has been an admirable official, efficient, painstaking and courteous and enjoyed the confidence of the departmental heads at Ottawa under various administrations.

The post of collector of customs is no bed of roses. No other governmental service is subjected so continuously to the intricacies, uncertainties and variations of policy. Changes in tariff and excise laws, which under some administrations have followed one another with breath-taking rapidity and without consistency, must be competently enforced. All of these fluctuations affect directly the commercial life of the country and indirectly every person in it, and their operation at times creates conditions which would try the patience of a saint.

Mr. Davey and his competent staff have held up their end of the service in the most satisfactory way, even though the laws and regulations they have had to enforce often have had the marked disapproval—if not worse—of the public. The retiring collector will have the best wishes of a host of friends in his withdrawal from the service to which he has devoted the greater part of his life.

ORGANIZING LEISURE

BRITAIN IS GOING TO BUILD ITS FIRST official "leisure centre" at a cost of $125,000—and it is to be at Wigan, the northern town which has been the pun target for musical hall artists for years. The undertaking is sponsored by the Wigan education authorities and the Carnegie Trust is making a grant of $27,000 because of the "constructive national value of the experiment."

There will be a central building, where every kind of provision for the cultural development of adults and children over school age will be made. Junior instruction centres for unemployed boys and girls up to the age of eighteen are to be included, and as these are statutory the Minister of Labor in the National government will make a grant of 75 per cent.

The originator of the scheme is Wigan's director of education who believes that if there is to be any change of outlook towards the use of leisure it must come from the younger sections of the community.

OUR PENITENTIARIES

IT HAS NOT TAKEN THE KING GOVernment long to decide upon a thorough investigation of Canadian penitentiaries. Although plans have not yet reached the stage for the appointment of a Royal Commission, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, yesterday announced the government's intention to have an inquiry.

It will be recalled that after many complaints had been voiced on the floor of the House of Commons and in the press during the Bennett regime an inquiry was conducted and a report submitted which intimated there was no need of a Royal Commission. The House had to be content with the statement from Hon. Hugh Guthrie, then Minister of Justice, that a number of reforms had been introduced which, in his opinion, removed the necessity for the kind of investigation which had been demanded by Liberal and Independent members of the Commons.

The announcement by Mr. Lapointe will be welcomed in many quarters. Mr. Guthrie's admission to Parliament that certain reforms had been decided upon would appear to be tacit admission that something had been wrong. How far such disabilities as have existed have been removed remains to be seen, but the public is entitled to a complete revelation of the situation. We should know whether our penitentiary system is designed to restore to our prisoners a sense of self-respect and a proper regard for the responsibilities of citizenship, besides its penal aspects, or is narrowed to the point of being exclusively an agency for punishment.

LAVAL'S HEAVY BURDEN

THE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE GIVEN by the French Chamber of Deputies to the Laval administration yesterday was larger than Premier Laval is reported to have expected. It reflected the major opinion of the deputies that the most pressing issue before the country was not the international situation, French policy in regard to Italy and Ethiopia, French Fascism or Communism, or the League of Nations, but that, instead, it was the financial crisis. Laval proposes the devaluation of the franc and other measures to stem the flight of gold from France which in recent times has assumed almost panic proportions.

It is reported that for some time, the Bank of France has been aided out of the British Equalization Fund, but that supply has lately been shut off, and France must resort to heroic measures on her own account. It is plain that the French Chamber considers the matter to be sufficiently critical to justify the retention of the government in office, regardless of the hostility of the extreme radicals who at first were reported as having demanded the suppression of the armed fascists under Colonel de la Roquette as the price of their support.

Premier Laval has given an assurance that the government will clamp down on political organizations of this kind, but declined to give this matter legislative precedence over the financial situation. Between the financial emergency and the compromising French attitude in relation to the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and the League of Nations, the Laval administration is in a position which fairly bristles with formidable complications.

The new Prime Minister of New Zealand, Mr. M. J. Savage, has waited twelve years for his success. He became leader of the Labor party in 1923. Incidentally, Mr. Savage, like Mr. Mackenzie King, is a bachelor and is sixty-three years old.

Those golfers who do not replace turf after they have removed it with the various implements used in the royal and ancient pastime should note what a youthful radio wag said the other night: "If my dad had replaced his divots there would have been no Grand Canyon to-day."

A contemporary quotes Mr. Arthur Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born, formerly editor of Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, now in an important executive office with a large British film producing company, and a Conservative member of Parliament in the House of Commons, as saying that the British financier "has become mortally afraid of losing his money if he puts it in Canada" and prefers to send it to South Africa or Australia. We doubt the accuracy of Baxter's statement in the light of the large British investment in Canada.

Mr. Bennett's explanation of the recent defeat of his government is unique, to say the least. At Calgary he is quoted as saying that "Canadians are not used to encountering great hardships from day to day as they have in the last five years, and with these conditions to face they looked about them for something upon which to vent their resentment. The government was the handiest." But it was Mr. Bennett himself who, five years ago, promised the Canadian people that if they elected him to office he would prevent the prevalence of such conditions as have been prevailing "from day to day" ever since.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

HER EXTRAVAGANCE

I knew her wants were many and I knew her means were small.
I knew she had to pinch and scrape to get along at all.
So passing by this morning it seemed a curious thing
To find her in the garden planting tulips for the spring.

Now tulips aren't expensive, but beyond the slightest doubt
They are little bits of beauty one could really live without.
And the shawl was thin upon her and her bonnet worn and frayed,
And those tulips meant a saving which I thought she could have made.

She guessed what I was thinking for she seemed to hang her head;
And "we all have some extravagance," excusingly she said.
"Some people squander money on their appetites and some Indulge themselves in pleasures from which only sorrows come."

"I shall wear my shawl this winter and I'll make my bonnet do.
If I suffer for my folly I can smile and brave it through.
We all have whims and notions unto which we cling through life we cling.
And my weakness is for tulips, red and yellow, in the spring."

SEAPLANES ARRIVE

Seattle, Nov. 29.—Seven navy seaplanes roared out of the dusk over Sand Point naval station on Lake Washington yesterday evening, finishing a journey from San Diego, Calif.

The squadron finished the last leg of its journey from Coos Bay, Ore., where weather conditions had held the planes for several days. The ships took off from Coos Bay at 9:45 a.m., and flew overland to Seattle. Squadron No. 12 will be stationed permanently at Sand Point, a few miles north of Seattle. A ground crew of fifteen men arrived several weeks ago.

Toulon, Nov. 29.—A boiler exploded on the battleship Paris off this port yesterday and five sailors were seriously injured.

THANKS

To the Editor:—My pack of Cubs at Cedar Hill desire me to write and express their appreciation of the generous response to the appeal for books you kindly found room for in your newspaper.

I find that outside the pack there are other "hungry" sheep who look up and are not fed," so that we are allowing first the brothers and sisters of the Cubs, and then others, to have access to the books. To do this properly, I shall require many more books, text-books on any elementary science, old school books, adventures, travel, etc. Boys' and Girls' Annuals are especially fine. Now that girls are admitted, we shall want books on domestic activities besides story books.

Those who responded to my former appeal would feel well rewarded for their kindness could they get a glimpse of these little people exploring the fascinating and wonderful countries their books make accessible, the countries of rock and dirt, of trees and plants, of adventure, etc.

Look up those idle books; any kind (boys and girls are fast advancing into "teen age") and notify me by calling up E 7595, or by sending a postcard to A. Annett, Cubden, 2727 Asquith Street, Victoria, and I will see that they are called for.

ARTHUR ANNETT.

(From The Times Files)

A force of men is engaged in clearing the ruins of the recent big fire. The standing walls on the site of the Five Sisters' Block and Spencer's Arcade are being razed. The work is very tedious, however, and will take some time.

Some of the higher peaks on the Sooke hills and the crown of Mount Douglas were white with snow yesterday for the first time this season. Old-timers say that this may be taken as an indication that a period of frosty weather will set in.

Good progress is being made by the construction department of the B.C. Electric Railway on the work of putting in heavy permanent tracks at the corner of Menzies and Superior Streets. The Beacon Hill cars are now running through without transfer, but outer wharf traffic requires to be handled by two cars. Considering the heavy character of the work and the fact that unfavorable weather has impeded the same, the inconvenience to passengers on the street cars has been reduced to a minimum.

The reservoir on Smith's Hill has been emptied under the direction of the city engineer, and workmen have made an examination of the floors and walls without discovering any direct evidences of the cause of the

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

As soon as the food gets out of the stomach, it passes in an organ called the duodenum. This is a Greek word meaning two and ten, because the Greeks figured out that the duodenum was twelve fingers long.

The muscle through which the food passes from the stomach into the intestines is known as the pylorus. Sometimes in children this pylorus is contracted at birth, and it is necessary occasionally to operate on a child to get this muscle opened.

Near the stomach and the intestines are also the liver and the gallbladder.

In the duodenum, food is mixed with secretions from the pancreas, the liver, the gallbladder, and from the glands of the duodenum itself. From the pancreas there are three ferments.

The other ferments developed by the pancreas and poured into the duodenum include trypsin, which acts on the proteins; lipase, which breaks up the fats; and amylase, which digests the starches. This secretion is alkaline, while that from the stomach is acid.

Foods containing starches which are not completely digested in the stomach are broken up in the duodenum into sugars that can be absorbed. The fats are split up in the duodenum into fatty acids. When they combine with alkaline salts, fatty acids form soaps.

One of the secretions that helps digest fats is the bile, which comes into the duodenum from the liver and the gallbladder. When bile and pancreatic juice are mixed, they digest fats very rapidly.

Secretions from glands of the intestines contain ferments which also aid in preparing food for absorption. Most of the material by which we live and which comes from our foods is absorbed into the body in the small intestine.

TO-DAY'S HEALTH QUESTION

Q. Is toothpaste better than tooth powder?

A. Most substances which are used to clean the teeth are soaps or chalks, sometimes flavored, sometimes colored. Usually glycerine may be added to hold the material together. Operation of the toothbrush is the important factor—not the toothpaste. Any of the widely advertised toothpastes or toothpowders is about as good as any of the others.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

"Now here's where the Division of Investigation is really valuable. They've got more records down there in Washington than you can shake a stick at. They've got millions of fingerprints—literally millions—classified in every conceivable way. They've got every criminal record they've been able to lay hands on. They've got descriptions, fingerprints, photographs, and so on of just about every known crook in the United States, and all are classified so that you can look 'em up in almost any way you can think of."

"Look, now, all we know was that there was a bank robber who was missing the index finger on his left hand. Now among other ways of classification, they have all the crooks of whom they have any record classified according to deformities, injuries, scars, and so on."

"So somebody down there takes this meagre little description of ours and starts rifling through his cards. After about an hour, he discovers that there are in the United States exactly four men with criminal records who lack that particular finger. He got their cards out and had a look."

"One of them is a safe-cracker who is now right in the middle of a ten-year stretch in the Massachusetts state prison. That let him out as far as this job was concerned, of course. The second was a Chicago racketeer who got put on the spot and killed with a load of slugs from a sawed-off shotgun just two months ago. The third was a fake oil stock promoter who did a stretch in Atlanta prison and got out two years ago. He's living in Florida now. It took one of our men from the Miami office just half a day to prove that he hadn't been within 500 miles of this Neola bank for eight months."

"That let us with just one man. He's a bird named Lewis—Wingey Lewis, they call him. Due apparently to a fever he got—winged—once by a bullet in some saloon fight, or other and thereby lost his tell-tale index finger. Now this Wingey Lewis used to be a confidence man out west. A year or so ago he's believed to have joined the bank-robbing mob of the notorious Red Jackson."

Hagan nodded thoughtfully. There was no need for Larry to tell him who Red Jackson was—Red Jackson, a desperate criminal wanted for more than three years, named as one of the men who committed the bank robbery in a way that left city and state police forces utterly helpless and who gloried in the title of "Public Enemy Number One." No, there was no need to tell Hagan or anyone else who Red Jackson was.

"So," resumed Larry, "you see where that gets us. It indicates, to begin with, that this job was the work of Red Jackson's gang. It gives us an avenue of approach to the case. Instead of just having a missing finger to go on, we've a name, a photograph, a set of fingerprints, and so on."

"Did you show this Wingey guy's photos to the bank people?" asked Hagan.

"Of course. They identified it, but in a rather hesitant and uncertain way. Honestly, they were all so jittery that I'm not at all sure that their identifications would stand up in court. There's a perfectly good chance, of course, that our four-finger bandit is someone we never heard of before—someone that never got arrested and consequently has no record at Washington. But we're working on probabilities, and so far the probabilities seem to point in the direction of Red Jackson's outfit."

"Well, that makes it all very simple," drawled Hagan with a grin. "All you've got to do now is round up Red Jackson."

Larry grinned ruefully. "Yeah—simple, isn't it?" he asked. "The gang

"What beautiful English!" he murmured. Larry grinned and tapped out his cigarette in the ashtray at his elbow.

"So," he said, "I dropped around and got acquainted with the manager of the theatre—without, of course, letting on that I'm with the Department of Justice. And he said, after a while, that someone or other had told him that Evelyn has been seen right here in Dover recently."

"The next step was fairly obvious. All of these mobsters and their satellites are bound the play the hot spots. They just can't stay away from joints like this Golden Feather. So the thing to do was to keep snooping about these night clubs, keeping the eyes open for Evelyn Brady. Once we spot her, provided that all our information is correct, we ought to begin getting the scent of Wingey; and if we do that, we'll be on Red Jackson's trail."

"He put the sheaf of photographs back in his pocket."

"So there you have it all," he said. Hagan nodded absently and stared off into a cloud of drifting cigarette smoke. At last he shrugged despondently.

W. H. HUDSON'S LIFE REVIEWED

Miss Ruth Humphrey Describes Writer as Mystic Before "Y" Reading Group

The spiritual gifts, rather than the contribution made to science by W. H. Hudson, the naturalist, were emphasized in the delightful causerie given by Miss Ruth Humphrey of Victoria College in her address before the Y.W.C.A. reading group yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Edwin Tomlin presided. Taking as her subject "W. H. Hudson and His Books," Miss Humphrey went to the author's autobiography and his other books for her analysis of his character as a naturalist, scientist, yet a mystic and seeker after things spiritual. Galworthy, in his preface to Hudson's "Far Away and Long Ago," a retrospect of his boyhood, had praised him in the highest terms both as a scientist and philosopher.

His autobiography was essentially a record of the life of the spirit, even while it dealt faithfully with mundane things. Several chapter headings from "Hind in Richmond Park" were read to show the wide range of Hudson's thought and feelings and his extraordinary gift for speculation. In referring to the Epstein memorial known as "Rima" and erected in Hyde Park and around which so much controversy has waged, Miss Humphrey pointed out that, although this was a prominent feature of a bird-bath, it did not merely perpetuate Hudson's fame as a naturalist but was a man of science that his admirers wished to commemorate as his significant contribution as a philosopher and poet.

Foster-parents To Lose Child

Toronto Judge Returns Boy to Mother After Twelve Years

Canadian Press
Toronto, Nov. 29.—Mr. Justice A. C. Kingston in Supreme Court today gave judgment, that Gordon Bruce Wood, fourteen, now living with foster parents in Saskatchewan, should be returned to the custody of his mother, Mrs. John Urquhart of Toronto.

Mr. Justice Kingston ruled that although the boy "is in a good home and there will be a severance of ties that have grown during the years, the claim of the mother is a stronger one."

The Children's Aid Society was defendant to the action of the mother. The boy was born in Barrie, Ont., and came into the care of the society two years after his birth.

Evidence showed the plaintiff was formerly married to John Wood, from whom she was divorced in October, 1924. Last January she married John Urquhart, a railway engineer.

The foster father of the boy is superintendent of an Indian school in Saskatchewan and has had the boy for nine years.

Brother insists that pa must be a big hero because he gives no quarter, either.

Recent Weddings

EIK—HANSON
At St. John's Anglican Church, Port Alberni, with its floral background of early winter blossoms, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening when Agnes Thelma, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hanson of Tofino, was united in marriage to Mr. Hubert Eik, only son of Mr. J. M. Eik and the late Mrs. Eik, also of Tofino. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Glen Stevenson, while Mrs. W. R. H. Prescott presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. W. C. Hanson, wore a charming figure in her bridal gown of ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines, falling in circular train, with duchess lace jacket. She wore a veil of silk Breton net, with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white gardenias and carnations with fern. Her sister, Mrs. Roy Trevis of Port Alberni, acted as matron of honor, attired in the gown of oyster white satin with small white toques, which she wore at her own recent wedding, and chose for her arm bouquet, pink and white carnations.

Mr. B. Gordon Grant, supported the bridegroom as best man. Following the service a wedding dinner was held at the Dunvegan, where covers were laid for forty guests at a horse-shoe table artistically decorated with gold and silver, and golden favors.

Mr. Norman Salisbury officiated as toastmaster.

Mrs. A. Hanson, mother of the bride, wearing a gown of sapphire blue crepe de Chine, and Mrs. R. Trevis, received the guests with the bride couple. Later in the evening, Mrs. Hanson entertained at a dance in the Norway Hall, music being supplied by Miss Johnson and Mr. Tom Tyee. When Mr. and Mrs. Eik left for their honeymoon trip to Victoria the bride wore a travel smart tailored ensemble, in hyacinth blue tweed, with accessories to match. They will take up residence at Tofino.

VEYSEY—BLAIR
New Westminster—The wedding of Miss Dorothy Geraldine Blair and Mr. Wilfred Druysey Veysey was solemnized by Rev. W. B. Wilson on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Blair of New Westminster, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Veysey, Mr. John D. Blair, brother of the bride, supported the groom and Mr. Blair gave his daughter in marriage.

Pale pink tulle lace over satin, fashioned the lovely bride gown, the high neckline of which was opened at the back and draped softly while pearl buttons, trimmed long, full sleeves slashed from the shoulder and shirred into narrow wrist bands.

Swathing the figure to the knees, the skirt flowed gracefully into a slight train. A band of orange blossoms worn at the back of her head nestled in her hair, and Johanna Hill roses formed her bouquet.

Miss Evelyn Trapp, as bridesmaid, was charming in a jade green chiffon velvet gown featuring a shirred neckline and a softly draped bodice in the Grecian mode. She carried a bouquet of citronella-toned chrysanthemum. During the signing of the register Miss Megan Griffiths sang "Until," accompanied by Miss Rose Christian.

At the reception which followed Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Veysey received with the bride and groom. Mrs. E. P. Cribb and Mrs. C. B. Ellis of Victoria presided at the urns and Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. George B. Rennie cut the ice.

For traveling, the bride donned a terry red woolen suit and a seal coat with a black hat and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Veysey will reside in Vancouver.

CORNWALL—LANGLEY
Of much interest to the bride's many friends on Vancouver Island was the wedding performed at the Church of St. John the Divine, Queen's, on November 23, when Beatrice Elizabeth Patricia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Langley of Merritt and formerly of Tipperary, Ireland, became the bride of Mr. Clement Fitzgerald Cornwall, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald Cornwall, Ashcroft Manor.

The bride, who was born in Dublin, Ireland, came to British Columbia with her parents when she was a child. While living on Vancouver Island, she attended Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, and was graduated from the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, in 1933.

Rev. S. E. Higgs officiated, and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. R. F. Cornwall, and Mr. H. J. Gardner. The bride was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. S. E. Higgs as matron of honor. The bride wore an attractive navy woolen suit with a felt hat to match, while her coronet bouquet was of California gardenias and lily of the valley. Mrs. E. A. Winder played the organ.

Following a wedding breakfast in the vicarage, Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall left by motor for Wells, where they will reside.

The famous "blue laws" of Connecticut prohibited all housekeeping activities and cooking on the Sabbath. The law-bound colonial was forbidden to eat mince pie, to travel, to cut his hair, to shave his face, to dance, to kiss his children, to cross a river, or to play any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet or Jew's harp.

Mother-in-Law To Pay Wife

Wealthy Montreal Woman to Pay $200 Alimony, Court Rules

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 29.—Ruling her marriage to James Gordon Ross invalid because of a previous marriage, Mr. Justice W. Mackinnon nevertheless held that Delys Jones Ross was entitled to a $200 monthly allowance from Ross's mother, Ida Millard Ross, because the second marriage was contracted in good faith.

Delys Jones took action against Ross's mother claiming the latter was left an estate valued at $1,800,000 while her son was unable to support the plaintiff, being destitute and in receipt of relief. The plaintiff married Ross in Vancouver in 1929 in the belief, she said, that his first marriage in Montreal to Anne Lennie Murray had been dissolved by decree of the Superior Court of California. She said she decided to enter suit when Ross deserted her.

Ross's mother fought the suit for alimony on the ground that her son was legally married to his first wife, and that his marriage to Delys Jones was null. Therefore, she submitted, she was not bound to pay alimony.

The court ruled it had been shown that Delys Jones was in ill health and unable to earn her own livelihood.

St. Ann's Academy Hears Miss Clay

Miss Margaret Clay, librarian, visited St. Ann's Academy yesterday in connection with the observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Andrew Carnegie. The senior school and grades seven and eight assembled in the auditorium to hear her interesting lecture on the biography of the father of the public library and the great use of such institutions throughout the world.

Sister Superior and the teaching staff were present. Following her lecture Miss Clay visited the art department of the Academy and looked through the school's fine library.

HEIRESS TO WED FOR THIRD TIME

Her first two marriages ending in divorce, Mrs. Marjorie Post Close Hutton, above, will try matrimony again, this time with Joseph E. Davies, Washington, D.C., attorney. Mrs. Hutton is the millionaire daughter of C. W. Post, founder of the General Foods Corporation. Davies also has been married and divorced. The ceremony is set for early December.

COURT DENIES ANNULMENT

Protestant Wife of Montreal Roman Catholic Refused "Mixed Marriage" Plea

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 29.—Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenfield yesterday refused to annul a mixed marriage performed by a Protestant clergyman on the grounds that the marriage was given its "civil effect by a complete compliance with the laws of this province, which is the only law which governs the matter."

Edith I. MacPhail, a Protestant, asked annulment of her marriage to Vincent G. McDonald, Catholic, on the ground that she had been misled into believing her husband a Protestant.

"Plaintiff and defendant were both capable of entering into a contract of marriage, and they had entered into that contract," the chief justice stated. "Only Quebec law governed the matter, and it is a matter of perfect indifference in my determination of this case whether the defendant was a member of the Protestant communion, or the Roman Catholic communion, or whether he was a Hindu, a Mohammedan or an atheist, his marriage with the plaintiff was valid."

The chief justice referred to recent superior court judgments in which mixed marriages had been annulled by saying: "It may be that owing to encouragement to be found in the judgments of our courts, the time-honored divorce proceedings have been displaced or supplanted by the direct action to annul marriage taken by those who wish to escape from the shackles of unholy wedlock."

One ground upon which Mrs. McDonald sought annulment was that McDonald had declared he held a good position and then was "laid off" by his firm.

"Apparently and unfortunately, the plaintiff drew a blank in the matrimonial lottery, but I am unable to come to her relief and give her another opportunity in the matrimonial market," the judge commented.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

ALL BABIES SHOULD LEARN EARLY TO USE SPOON AND CUP

Whether the baby is breast or bottle-fed, it is important that early in life he learn to accept food from both spoon and cup. The longer this teaching is put off the harder it is to persuade the child to accept it.

Both bottle and breast-fed babies may have their cod liver oil and orange juice by spoon. At first only small amounts are offered; so that there is little danger of gagging.

Let the baby lie on the mother's lap and elevate the head, and support it by one hand. Then introduce a portion of a spoonful of the cod liver oil, or the diluted orange juice into baby's mouth.

WATER BY CUP
Sometimes the baby will suck the liquid off the end of the spoon if it is put against his lips. Sometimes it needs to be introduced well into the mouth so that baby will swallow without pushing his tongue and the liquid out together.

If orange juice and cod liver oil are given by spoon, the baby's water supplies may be given first by bottle, then by cup, so that a knowledge of how to manage with this feeding may come before the date when an increasing amount of baby's milk should be given in that way.

IT IS THE HABIT
We have two leaflets which are designed to help mothers take these necessary training steps. Both "Teaching a Baby to Use a Spoon" and "Weaning From Bottle to Cup" may be had by any reader who will ask for them. Send a self-addressed and 3c stamped envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

In teaching these new and useful habits one must be concerned at first with the habit itself, and not its immediate results. If the orange juice goes out oftener than in, let it. Eventually, when the baby has learned the trick of swallowing without choking, the amount of food can be increased so as to take care of the nourishment.

AROUND THE TOWN With Misses Pepys

Thursday, November 28.
Up—to find the town swathed in thick white folds of mist. The trees are dripping wet beneath this steady drifting fog. Finds Samuel do awake in gloom. He doth complain of aches and pains within. It methinks it be thought of wearing white tie and tails to-morrow eve. Men were ever thus. Myself, in merry mood.

Many errands had I within my mind this day. One be at McMartin's Leather Goods Shoppe, for ever they have such engaging things within. Straightaway cross over Yates Street to the Nedeckart Shoppe and there I do find a most unusual gift. Here is a desirable wee dog... so real in look I almost did stoop to pat one. Mistress Bennett do show me they be patterned so cleverly as pyjama cases. 'Tis indeed original! A dainty Pekinese do sit up so jauntily... a silky black-haired spaniel looks be-seechingly out from 'big dark eyes... and near the door I do see a Scottie so like my dear Jocks. Methinks this be wonderful gift suggestions... for 'tis so new.

Out into the streets once again and find the mist do lift a little. Hurry on to English Bakery.

Small butter sponge with many different icings be priced at 20 cents, and tiny cakes... so appetizing... at 40 cents a dozen. Remember Samuel's sweet tooth and do make a good selection.

While I do flit about this many days my plants do languish over much. This day to Popsy Shoppe, for well I know that there it will not be hard to replenish my stands. Find a perfect display! Waxy cyclamens, blush pink, a deeper rose and then dark pink red. Ever do they breathe the spirit of festive days. Dainty clustering primulas... soft pink flowers that tuck themselves within the shelter of green spreading leaves... and ever the feathery fronded ferns that wave so gracefully. Popsy Shoppe do dress their potted plants in gay attire... bright crinkled paper frills in seasonal colors. Here be gift suggestion for most any occasion.

LIONS TO ADD TO ROAR OF BATTLE

Emperor Haile Selassie proposes shipping some lions to the New York zoo to war on the reported lion shortage in the metropolis, but his soldiers apparently prefer to use them in the war against the Italian invaders. Troops are pictured above on the way to the front, accompanied by trained lions tagging at leashes. The ferocious beasts, they said, were to be loosed against the invaders.

ASK INCREASED WINTER RELIEF

Cumberland, Nov. 29.—A delegation of unemployed asked the council on Monday that an extra relief allowance be given to meet the increased expenses of fuel and clothing during the winter. They stated a higher rate was being paid in Vancouver and Nanaimo, the increase being granted to cover higher rentals.

Mayor Maxwell said that council could not do more than they were doing at present. If the government gave them more they would pass it on. The question of rates will be taken up with Hon. George Pearson.

The council stood firm on its decision not to permit raffles in town, a request from the women's auxiliary to the P.O.E. being refused.

Two new cases of scarlet fever were reported.

Assessments were set on seven new buildings. Insurance on the city buildings was also discussed.

The attention of the council was drawn to the fact that the city magistrate is unable to attend to his duties, and it was decided to take the matter up with the Attorney-General's department.

McCoy Choice In Bout With McAvoy

French-Canadian Battler Favorite For Ten-round Bout With British Middle-weight and Light Heavy-weight Champion at New York To-night

By SAM ROBERTSON

New York, Nov. 29.—Monsieur Florian Le Brasseur, who goes to war under the less difficult name of Al McCoy, takes his handsome record and equally handsome features into the ring here to-night with a challenge to Jock McAvoy to try and mar them.

Should the French-Canadian emerge from the ten-round clash at Madison Square Garden with both unscathed, it is the opinion in this corner that Monsieur Le Brasseur is about to add one more victim to his string.

But despite the titles and the reputation the British brought from across the seas, it is the opinion in this corner that Monsieur Le Brasseur is about to add one more victim to his string.

STIFFER PUNCHER

The impression gained watching the two Mackies cuff the lambs of their training stables is that the French-Canadian has greater speed and more paralyzing punch than the Englishman.

Jock's right hand flashed impressively as he polished off training yesterday. He was blocking masterfully, too. But he left the impression he had to be in close to get home with stingers.

Against this McCoy moved about with the speed of a whippet. It didn't seem an in-fighter would find the opportunity of getting in for his licks. Also the statuesque habitant appeared capable of shooting over a haymaker from either port.

McCoy should enter the ring around 170 pounds, giving him an advantage of around ten pounds over McAvoy.

The betting to-day favored the Canuck at six and seven to five.

BOB RANKINE RACE VICTOR

Canadian Marathon Star Lifts Berwick Event For Third Time

Berwick, Pa., Nov. 29.—Robert Rankine, Preston, Ont., shoe cutter, became a three-time winner of Berwick's Thanksgiving modified marathon yesterday, by legging over the rugged Brier Creek course of nine miles, 285 yards, in the record time of 47 minutes 35 seconds. His wins were consecutive.

It was a great day for Canada. Four of Rankine's countrymen finished among the first ten. They composed the full entry from the Dominion.

Eino Pentti, the Finn, who was eight seconds behind Rankine, also shattered the old course record of 47 minutes 50 1/2 seconds set by Willis Ritto in 1922.

Informing that he beat Ritto's record, Rankine let out a whoop then confided that he will enter a hospital next week for a hernia operation.

John Yeaman, Galt, Ont., was third, Joseph Mundy, formerly of Philadelphia, running under Millrose Athletic Club colors, of New York, was fourth. Prizes for the first four were diamond rings.

Robert Morrison, Toronto, placed fifth and behind him came Walter Hornby, Hamilton, Ont.

DOCTOR ADMITS MERCY SLAYING

"Under the same circumstances I would do it again," Dr. M. A. Warriner (above), retired Bridgeport, Conn., physician, insists in justification of the "mercy slaying" of an incurable patient whose misery he says he ended forty-eight years ago. Dr. Warriner says the patient, victim of a hunting accident, was in constant pain and doomed to insanity.

Lynn Patrick Leads New York Rangers To Brilliant Victory

THE SPORTS MIRROR

EDMONTON GRADES, Canada's world-famous women's basketball team, is now under the captaincy of Gladys Fry, member of the club since 1927. She succeeds Margaret MacBurney, leader since 1925, who retired following the international series with a St. Paul outfit for the Underwood Trophy. First "outsider" to be chosen captain, Miss Fry is one of two girls in the club's history who were not students of Edmonton Commercial High School. She attended Strathcona High and graduated from the University of Alberta.

According to the records, she played her first series of games with the Grades in 1927 against Chicago Taylor-Trunks. Except for a single season when she was unable to play because of illness, she has held centre position until a year ago when she was moved back to one of the guard positions. One of the most unselfish players ever to wear a Grad uniform, Miss Fry is credited with never losing her smile even when the going is "tough." She would much rather pass a ball to a teammate who is in a more advantageous position, but despite this has set an enviable scoring record.

Cyril Charles Slapnicka struggled along as a minor league pitcher for fifteen years, and the best he could get was two brief trials in the National League. Slapnicka weighed only 145 pounds. He was too small. Slapnicka had to get there the hard way, which he did, and he reported for the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, at Dayton, O., in complete command of the Cleveland American League Club.

Slapnicka's official title is that of "assistant to the president," but Alva Bradley, president of the Indians, has given him full authority. Slapnicka succeeds the veteran umpire and newspaperman, Billy Evans, whose title of general manager was abolished with his resignation.

Ability to appraise the value of young players on the home market is what he is to-day. He has come associated with the Cleveland club when the late E. S. Barnard paid him $1,000 for tracking down and corraling a pitcher named Red Leary in 1923. Leary had chucked for Slapnicka, who that season managed the Vicksburg club of the Cotton States League until it blew up in July.

"Mr. Barnard was handing a very hungry man a very large meal when he asked me if I cared to continue on with the Cleveland club as a scout," beams Assistant-to-the-president Slapnicka.

Since that eventful day, Slapnicka has placed the final stamp of approval on most of the new Indians. He put the a.k. on the purchase of Earl Averill and Oral Hildebrand. He got to New York, la. ahead of Connie Mack's agents, and signed the phenomenal Hal Trosky. He dug up Mel Harder, Willis Hudlin, Odell Hale, and Ralph Winegarner.

Slapnicka, like Steve O'Neill, asserts that the driving rain, all but floating in a driving rain, paddling an imaginary boat with barrel staves, to the great delight of a couple of barefooted kids.

Slapnicka chatters with the manager. "Where's the pitcher?" the scout wanted to know.

"There he is—out there on second base," replied the pilot.

"Is he left-handed?" inquired Slapnicka.

Nets Two Fast Goals To Whip Chicago Hawks

Gets Great Hand From 12,000 Fans For Scoring Feat in 2 to 1 Win

DETROIT PLAYS ANOTHER DRAW

New York Rangers and their attacks, the Patrieks, smiled good-naturedly down from top place in the National Hockey League's American section to-day and acknowledged the restrained plaudits of Gotham hockey crowds. Maybe the Patrieks smiled a little more cheerfully than the other Rangers.

These wise-cracks concerning the age and alleged long-lost ability of the Blueshirts are out of order to-day. Lester Patrick's team is doing all right. It has even beaten the Chicago Black Hawks, whose early foot seems to have given out before reaching the first turn.

To the delight of 12,000 spectators yesterday evening, Lynn Patrick banged in a pair of goals in the second period that gave Rangers a 2 to 1 victory over the Black Hawks, and made papa Lester the happiest man in New York. It was the second straight defeat for the Hawks and pushed them from first place.

FAST SCORING
Young Patrick condensed his scoring into a single minute. His first goal, on which Vernon Ayres was given an assist, resulted from a shot from beside the goal. Fifty-six seconds later, Lynn charged down with Murdoch and Cecil Dillon and scored again.

Chicago's only tally came in the first period when Eddie Ouellette, former London Tecumseh star, handed Mush March a scoring pass. The little winger beat Dave Kerr with a scoring shot.

Detroit Red Wings produced their fourth in six starts yesterday evening at home, holding Montreal Canadiens scoreless while trying in vain to get a shot past the brilliant Wilf Cude. The Wings managed to get through the defence several times, forcing play much of the time, but they could not beat Cude.

Rangers — Kerr, Ayres, Johnson, Boucher, W. Cook, F. Cook, Dillon, Murdoch, Patrick, Keeling, Brydson, Connolly, Mason, Starr, Seibert.

Chicago — Karakas, Coulter, Burke, Hommes, McFadden, Thompson, T. Cook, Bradley, Leachman, Morris, March, Ouellette, Levinsky, Wiebe.

Officials — Bill Stewart and Eusebio Daigneault.

SUMMARY
First period — No scoring. Penalties: McGill, Leisner, Sorrell.

Second period — No scoring. Penalties: Haynes, Young.

Third period — No scoring. Penalties: Gagnon, H. Kilrea, Lesieur, Goodfellow.

Over time period — No score.

St. Saviours To Play Here Dec. 7

Soccer fans will see another Vancouver club in action here on Saturday, December 7, when Victoria United will meet St. Saviours in an Inter-city League match at the Athletic Park. In their last appearance the United handed Nanaimo City a setback.

TITLE FIGHTS ON TO-NIGHT

Company Boxing Championships To Be Decided By Princess Pats

Finalists in the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry boxing tournament will meet this evening for company championships, following elimination bouts at the Work Point Five Court yesterday evening.

To-night's battles, at the same location, will start at 8 o'clock. No knockouts were scored yesterday evening, although several of the boys took plenty and handed out just as much.

In the light heavy section Hatch took a decision from Melville, and Reamie gained the nod over Terlesky. Both encounters produced lots of action.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS
Langport and Jensen scored victories in the middleweight B division, securing verdicts over Newberry and Huston respectively. In the A division of the same class, Bion beat Hipwood, who spotted him four pounds, and Kellington took the measure of Ellington.

Shone beat Wilkinson and S. J. Pocock was given the decision over Douglas in the welterweight class.

Hoffman beat King and Scott overcame Candy in the junior welter section.

All bouts were refereed by Major W. Colquhoun, and Sergeant-Major Ben and Sergeant Pink were judges. Sergeant-Major S. Mitchell acted as announcer.

EASTERN ICE TEAMS STRONG

Appear to Hold Most of the Power in the International League

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 28.—If statistics count for anything in figuring out hockey teams, most of the power in the International League is locked up in the eastern section. Two western league squads emerged from yesterday evening's games with victories to be at even in second place, but at that both of them had suffered two more losses than wins.

Only one team in the western group, Detroit Olympics, claimed a balance on the win side, whereas in the eastern section, Rochester Cardinals were the only club to have more losses marked against them than victories.

The Cards made a gallant stand at home to improve their lowly position, but were outlasted by the Pittsburgh Shamrocks in overtime, 6 to 5. Cleveland Falcons marked up a 2 to 0 win at Windsor over the Bull Dogs.

Syracuse Stars, playing at home, moved up on even terms with Buffalo for second notch in the eastern section when they pasted the Bisons, 8 to 1.

Tweedle Dee Wins Handicap at Bowie

Bowie, Md., Nov. 28.—In a splashy finish, Mrs. Marion Du Pont Somerville's Tweedle Dee won, the $2,500 added Thanksgiving Handicap here by half a length yesterday.

Tweedle Dee, three-year-old son of Twink-kippy, paid $12.20. Ridden by Jockey Alfred Robertson, he out-gamed A. G. Vanderbilt's Purple Knight on the stretch. Robert S. Clark's Malrouk was third, three lengths back.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Every severe fire causes atmospheric disturbances — heated air, being lighter, rises and cool air from surrounding areas sweeps in to take its place. The amount of atmospheric disturbance depends in part upon the extent of the fire—in this case conditions were just right to cause a real cyclone so strong that it killed and injured people a mile and a half away, wrecked buildings and overturned an automobile.

The fire and cyclone occurred in San Luis Obispo, California, during an oil field fire. The intense heat of the fire began a movement of air that reached such proportions that it killed two men, injured a woman, destroyed three homes and several other buildings.

Robert Hoffman memorized the entire United States constitution with all the amendments before he was fourteen years old, just to prove to himself that he could overcome a speech impediment. He has recited it before the South Carolina Supreme Court Justice and again before the governor.

The United States Agricultural Department lists ninety-five products that can be made from soy beans. From the plant itself fuel and stock feed are the chief products. Bean meal is used to make such various articles as dog food, celluloid substitutes and paint. Oil from the bean can be transformed into disinfectants, electrical insulation, machine oil, printers ink, and scores of other things. Green and dried beans are used in the making of dozens of commodities varying from textile dressing to ice cream cones.

Dominoes To Meet GRID GAMES Smart Tacoma Team ARE CRUCIAL

Victoria's Basketball Champions and Heidelberg Barons Clash at High School Gym To-morrow Evening; Ed Grant With Visitors; First Game 7.15

With a victory and a draw in their matches to date against smart aggregations from the state of Washington the Dominoes, Victoria's basketball champions, will go up against another crack American squad to-morrow evening at the High School gym.

Their opposition will be Heidelberg's Barons of Tacoma, under the leadership of Ed Grant. Two preliminary games will be run off with the opener at 7.15 o'clock bringing together Pantorium and Kreges in the women's division. This will be followed by an intermediate A hit between Trade-Ats and Kingham-Gillespie.

Return of Grant with the Tacoma team will be welcomed by the local fans. He will be remembered for his brilliant playing here last season with the Gilmore Oil, who defeated the Blue Ribbons twice.

Grant learned his basketball around Chicago and toured the United States for two years with Olson's Terrible Swedes. He was by far the smartest player to play here last season.

The only other member of the Barons to play here before is Bud Crow, who starred on the old Tacoma Sun Life team which played here several years ago in the Y.M.C.A. gym. At that time he was a sensation and should have improved with more experience.

GIANT CENTRE
At centre for the Barons will be Kylen "Friday" who stands six feet six inches. He hails from Port Lewis. Other members are Gene Jack, former Lutheran College ace; Earl Balcolm, who is rated one of the finest guards

OAKLANDS IN SOCCER WIN

Defeat George Jay 4 to 1 in Final For School Championship

Featuring Wallace and McCorkall, speedy forwards, who garnered two tallies apiece, Oakland School eleven yesterday afternoon came through to win the school championship when they defeated the George Jay eleven 4 to 1 at Central Park.

Oaklands had the best of play throughout, with the score at the half being 1 to 0 in their favor. Playing in a fine manner and shooting with deadly accuracy, Oakland pushed across three markers in the second-half. About five minutes before time, George Jay staged a determined rally to endeavor to frustrate a shutout victory. They secured their lone goal at this time, when they banged home a marker from a penalty kick.

Oaklands will take possession of the cup for the ensuing year. North Ward was the titleholder last year.

Gunners Slightly Below Strength For Battle With Garrison; Bays-Wanderers To Oppose Navy; Two Intermediate Games Billed

Injuries in the ranks of the Gunners will cause the first half champions of Victoria's senior A Rugby League to open their second half campaign against the Garrison to-morrow with a back-field plugged with intermediates. It was learned to-day.

That game, scheduled for MacDonald Park at 2.45 o'clock, will furnish the double attraction at the enclosure. The Navy will battle the Bays-Wanderers in the other fixture slated to start at the same time. C. E. Ley will handle the Fifth Brigade-Garrison engagement, while Aubrey Walls will be in charge of the other first division game.

ROWE OFF LINE-UP
Paul "Teewee" Rowe, 200-pound inside three, will be off the artillery-men's line with a poisoned elbow to-morrow, while Ken Fleming, elusive five-eighths may be absent as well. It was learned to-day.

McInnes will be back as last defence, and Bill Halkett will probably play inside three. Chuck Copeland will hold down one wing, with Bill Winsby, an intermediate, on the other. Fred Bridge is listed for an inside berth, and Fred Smith will take Fleming's place if the ace broken field runner cannot turn out.

Wally Stipe will hold down his customary berth behind the scrum, which will include Dowell, Buller, Johnson, Mair, Stewart, Simpson, Eastman and Engleau.

TO USE ADDISON
The Bays-Wanderers will probably use Joe Addison in a wing berth for their game against the Navy. The sailors took it on the chin from the Garrison last week and will be out to start their second half play more auspiciously.

Wally Stipe will hold down his customary berth behind the scrum, which will include Dowell, Buller, Johnson, Mair, Stewart, Simpson, Eastman and Engleau.

The intermediate games will start at 2.45 o'clock.

The Bays-Wanderers will line up as follows: Symons, Addison, Osmán, Nesbitt, Lattrell, McConnell, Burns, Petticrew, F. Briggs, A. Briggs, Drummond, Moore, Tobin, Burns and Usher, Spare, Ellis.

Canadian Scottish Intermediates — Adamson, Brown, Buckler, Jephson, McLaughlin, Martin, Williams, Willard, Speed, MacLennan, Stynes, Monaghan, Cooper, Spence, Parkinson, Hughes and Carlow.

A special event saw Ted "King Kong" Cox, 220, Lodi, Calif., and Abe Coleman, 36, New York, go six rounds to a draw.

Dave Johnson, 210, Minneapolis, took the nod over Babe Smalinski, 208, Portland, but only after the Portlander had missed an attempted head butt and went through the ropes and out among the customers. He was unable to continue.

UNION LABOR IN TRANSFER FIRMS

Union principles were now recognized by some 75 per cent of Victoria's transfer and fuel operators, it was reported by officials of the Victoria and District Truck Drivers' and Helpers' Union at a meeting yesterday evening.

Gratification was expressed at the support which the union is receiving from organized labor in the city.

Delegates reported that a high percentage of the union firms had experienced an increase in business since they had become unionized.

New members admitted at last night's meeting brought the total membership of the union to the sixty mark.

C. E. Wilson and Thomas Dicks bagged eighteen ducks yesterday at Cowichan Bay. The bag consisted of mallards, widgones and teal. They report that duck hunting is not very good as yet.

TAKE SHOTS AT AIRPORT

Lansdowne field was due for a brief new lease of life to-day with the staff and cast of the Central Films' production, "Stop, Look and Love," filming several shots involving planes.

Ernest Ewe and Cecil Ewe have been appointed pilots for the aerial shots. To-night the company plans to go out to a location which will present many difficulties from the technical point of view, one of the docks on Victoria's waterfront, possibly Rithers' Pier.

One of the B.C. Coast Service ships, probably the Princess Kathleen, will be used for one of the scenes shortly.

Bill Thompson, the company's cameraman, said this morning that he was having many difficulties with the photographic end of the production owing to the poor light of the last week. Booster lights had to be used in broad daylight to get any results with outdoor shots. It is expected that production will be completed in the early days of next week.

Yawning Woman Getting Better

Mrs. Wakelin Much Improved, Says Doctor; Church Service For Her in Portland To-night; More Quaint Cures From Letters

After eight-three days of continual yawning, Mrs. P. E. Wakelin at last seems to be showing signs of recovery.

To-day Dr. C. A. Watson, who has been looking after Mrs. Wakelin while she has been in the Jubilee Hospital, announced that her condition was much improved.

"I cannot say how often she is yawning now, because it varies so, but it is certainly much less," Dr. Watson said. "The last two days she has yawned very little."

Yesterday, Dr. W. A. Dobson, psychiatrist and neurologist from Vancouver, examined Mrs. Wakelin. It is expected that Dr. George Prance, specialist from Vancouver, and head of the psychiatric clinic there, will also examine her some time next week.

The sufferer from this strange malady is so much improved that she has now little trouble with her stomach, and is able to eat almost anything.

At the Wakelin home, the letters still pour in at the rate of thirty to forty a day, and Mrs. J. Mayhood, seventy-year-old mother of Mrs. Wakelin, has put them all into a huge box.

About half of these letters are religious, some of them telling the sufferer to "turn to Jesus," while others say that they would pray for her.

SPECIAL SERVICE
A special service for Mrs. Wakelin will take place to-night in Portland, according to a letter from Mrs. Nellie Gordon Curtis, evangelist of that city.

In her letter Mrs. Curtis said she would preach a sermon on healing, and at 9 o'clock she would call upon the congregation to pray for Mrs. Wakelin.

"All I want you to do," the evangelist wrote, "is to remember the hour when you were healed, and then write me."

From Los Angeles a woman wrote to Mrs. Wakelin telling her to get in touch with Father Divine.

"He is walking the land, healing sick, raising dead," she said of the famous negro preacher. "Write him, or contact him mentally." The key is "Thank U Father," which you must repeat the whole time."

A large number of letters suggested chiropractic treatment.

Here are some of the cures from letters picked out at random:

From Orlon, Oklahoma: Squirt brine in the mouth.

WET SHEET
"Get a nurse to wrap you naked in a wet sheet and put you to bed," says Butte, Montana.

"Try butte coffee, it stopped hic-coughs," suggests Yakima, Washington.

"I found that pinching the tips of the finger induced sleep," says a fellow sufferer from Hayward, California.

One lady whose writing was so bad that the address could not be made out, was so impressed by Mrs. Wakelin's condition that she continually dreamed of her. She wrote to Mrs. Wakelin, saying:

"Take your wife up in an airplane to a height of 15,000 feet, and then get the pilot to drop suddenly."

CACTUS TEA
Seattle suggests cactus tea, while Poudre, New York, puts its faith in the curative powers of catnip tea.

Newport, R.I., says: "Shut your mouth tight, fill it with your tongue, and swallow your yawn."

Some green onions were sent to Mrs. Wakelin to put up her nose to make her sneeze.

PRESS ON HEELS
Walther, Kansas, says to put a heavy pressure on the heels, and it will loosen the muscles of the jaw.

"Instead of you putting your hand over your mouth when you yawn, let some one else put their hand in front," is Long Island's contribution.

The Victoria post office is doing a wonderful job in delivering all these letters. Most of them are addressed to Mrs. Wakelin, Victoria, B.C. Others carry a sub-address to the yawning lady. One envelope had written on it: "In care of police headquarters, to the woman who yawns."

Another addressed to Mr. Wakelin had in big letters across the front: "Postmaster, please try to locate this gentleman, very urgent."

Tells of Plans In the Far East

Major Gordon Smith, Russo-Japanese War Correspondent, Speaks

Operations of the Japanese in their march upon China were explained in an address before the British Campaigners' Association yesterday evening by Major Gordon Smith, well known authority on the Far East, who gained world-wide fame as war correspondent at the front for the London Morning Post during the Russo-Japanese War.

The lecture was delivered at the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, with Col. Lorrie Ross presiding.

Japanese went into big parts of China with their troops on the pretext of exterminating Chinese bandits and thus accomplished peaceful occupation. Major Smith pointed out. One effect of the Japanese penetration now was that the Japanese controlled 80 per cent of the cotton mills in northern China.

Major Smith predicted that if China were left alone by Japan, the Chinese people would have wiped out Communism and be well launched upon the development of its natural resources. The possibilities of China were so immense, he said, that no European could predict its future.

Major Smith reviewed the history of China from its early days, down through the Mongol period. He emphasized the spread of Russian influence on the Pacific and its clash with the Japanese, who were seeking to spread westward in the Russo-Japanese war, in which he took part as an eye-witness. He also sketched the political and economic development of Japan, to make clear the trend of Japanese expansion in Korea, Manchuria and Mongolia.

which resulted in the placing of Emperor Henry Pu Yi upon the Manchukuo throne by Japan, and now the move to place him on the old Manchuria throne in Peiping, over a Japanese North China.

Major Smith pointed out that Japanese intelligence officers have recently been active in Mongolia, although it is under the control of Russia.

BISHOP DALLAS VISITING CITY
An eminent American divine and educationist, Bishop John T. Dallas of Concord, New Hampshire, is at the Empress Hotel to-day, traveling for his health.

Bishop Dallas is greatly interested in youth movements and for many years has been actively identified with the work of the Y.M.C.A. and the camps at Grey and Devers.

He started the ministry at St. John's Church, Waterbury, Conn., in 1908, was associate headmaster of Taft School, Watertown, Conn., from 1912 to 1920, and from that year until 1925 was rector of St. John's Church, Rochester, N.Y.

He became vicar of St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston in 1926 when he was appointed Bishop of New Hampshire. The bishop is a trustee of St. Paul's and St. Mary's Schools in Concord, the Holy Cross School in Plymouth, and is a director of the Union Theological Seminary.

The bishop is enjoying a complete rest while in Victoria.

He is seeing a great deal of the country, yesterday visited Butcher's Gardens.

HURT IN CRASH BOY WINS $137
James Ashworth Clarke, fifteen, riding a bicycle, and Robert Harp, 1203 Seymour Street, Vancouver, driving the automobile of R. Graves of Brentwood met in a traffic crash at Broad and Johnson Streets some time ago.

As a result of the crash, Clarke suffered physical injuries that sent him to the hospital for two weeks.

J. P. Walls, as counsel for the father, Reginald Clarke, as well as the son, pleaded the case before Judge Lampman to-day. At the conclusion of the trial the judge ordered judgment for $137 and costs in favor of the father and his under-age son.

Two Months For Having Pistol
Roy J. Plovman, convicted yesterday of being in possession of a stolen gun, was sentenced to two months in the City Police Court to-day.

"I do not think you kept it with any care," Judge Lampman said, sentencing Plovman to two months.

A pistol is a nasty thing to have. Usually there is a suspicion attached to those who carry them. Since this is your first conviction, I will let you off with a light sentence. You are sentenced to two months."

New Westminster, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press).—Norman Abbott, charged with demanding $10,000 by menaces from J. G. Robson, president of the Timberland Lumber Co., has been acquitted by an assize court jury here.

The defence was that evidence was purely circumstantial, based entirely on handwriting specimens which defending experts said were not similar to Abbott's.

Two traffic license charges were drawn on payment of license by the accused. To police, however, declared they would prosecute other cases in which payment has been delinquent.

SPEAKS ON BIRD LIFE

An interesting illustrated lecture was given in the Memorial Hall last night by Frank Kermode of the provincial museum on "Native Birds."

Over 100 slides were shown during the course of the lecture, which covered all types of feathered life in local regions.

Mr. Kermode touched on the life history of familiar birds, showing their relation one to the other in the various families in which they were classified.

The speaker told how to recognize a particular bird by its coloring and how to determine its nature by observing the formation of bill and claw.

The habits of the various bird families, as outlined by the speaker, were of special interest to the audience.

Mr. Kermode told of their breeding places and homes, taking into account all kinds of birds, from those which lived on insects after the manner of the woodpecker and hawk, to the birds of prey, like the owl and hawk.

Service Arranged By Canadian Legion, Sunday Night, in St. John's Church

Victoria will, on Sunday, pay tribute to the memory of the late Admiral Earl Jellicoe, famous British fleet commander. Arranged by the Canadian Legion, services will be conducted by Rev. Canon Chadwick at St. John's Church at 7.30 p.m.

This event is being held coincident with similar services throughout the British Empire.

The office of grand president of the British Empire Service League, with which the Canadian Legion is affiliated, was held by Earl Jellicoe.

An appeal to all the members of the Canadian Legion, the various women's auxiliaries and the general public to attend the service was made by officials.

It was announced from Government House that Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor, will attend if possible. An invitation to Mayor David Leeming and members of the city council to be present was extended.

Fifty ratings and a bugler from the Naval Barracks have been detailed by Commander G. C. Jones to be present at the service. Efforts are being made to secure representation from Military District No. 11.

A special service has been arranged and will be distributed in convenient form to those attending.

The ex-service men are requested to wear their war medals at the service.

SCHOOL AREAS ARE DISCUSSED

Cobble Hill, Nov. 29.—Major H. B. King discussed the scheme for larger school areas with the school trustees here. He said that the problem facing Cobble Hill district had been put before him showing that there were nine elementary and two high school teachers—eleven teachers with nine school boards consisting of twenty-seven school trustees.

He put forth the plan in force in the Somers, Matquai, Abbotsford area, saying they were in financial difficulties and the school boards had ceased to function. A large administrative area was formed under Mr. Sheffield. The plan has been successful. The school boards work very amicably with the inspector in an advisory capacity.

In further explaining the plan he said that when the province is organized in large administrative areas they will be under a director of education who would have the highest qualifications and be trained in administration.

W. SCOTT DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 29.—Col. Walter Scott, seventy-three, past royal chief of the Order of Scottish Clans in the United States and Canada, died yesterday.

Wouldn't you like to get thru the winter without CATCHING COLD?

Your chances of doing so are better if you will treat a cold for what it is—an infection calling for germicidal action

SOMETHING new is going on—something that will interest you if you are subject to colds and sore throat.

People who used to catch colds and sore throats vainly, now take steps to fight having them at all. They have stopped planning to cure, and have begun trying to prevent these troublesome and often dangerous ailments.

Today, colds stand revealed in their true light. They are no more nor less than infections, involving germs. The way to treat such infections is with germicidal action which destroys bacteria.

We ask you to read carefully the results of several tests, made under medical supervision, during the winters of 1930-1931, 1931-1932, and 1932-1933.

During these years, large groups of people were divided into two classes: those who gargled with Listerine twice a day or oftener, and those who did not gargle at all.

In a majority of tests it was shown that those who gargled with Listerine caught fewer colds than those who did not gargle with it. Moreover, when Listerine users did catch colds, the colds were milder and of shorter duration, than the infections of non-users.

Against sore throat Listerine was similarly successful—fewer cases for those who used it.

Bear in mind that these results did not spring out of one test made during one year but out of many tests made during several years.

Thus does science lend corroboration to the testimony of literally thousands of satisfied Listerine users who have found this safe antiseptic so helpful in checking respiratory infections.

Don't wait till a cold takes hold of you, and you are forced to dose it with internal drugs of questionable effect. Get in the habit of using Listerine twice a day as a preventive measure. Listerine not only kills germs associated with sore throat and colds, on the mucous membrane of the oral cavity, but also renders the mouth clean and sweet and the breath agreeable. EATS OATMEAL TO KEEP FIT

It may be one of Nature's lowest cost foods, but lucky is the boy or girl who gets it for breakfast every morning.

Many are nervous, poor in appetite, system out of order, because their daily diet lacks enough of the precious Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Few things keep them back like a lack of this protective food element.

So give everyone Quaker Oats every morning. Because in addition to its generous supply of Vitamin B for keeping fit, it furnishes food-energy, muscle and body-building ingredients. For about 1/3c per dish.

Start serving it tomorrow for a 2-week test. Quaker Oats has a wholesome, nut-like, luscious appeal to the appetite. Flavour, surpassingly good. All grocers supply it.

PEACE VIEWS ARE STATED

World Outgrows War as Old Order Gives Place to New, Say Speakers

War and peace, as emphasized by the present Italo-Ethiopian situation, were discussed from three viewpoints at a special meeting called by the local League of Nations Society in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium yesterday evening.

Rev. C. G. McKenzie, pastor of Centennial United Church, approached the question from the general standpoint, talking on the causes and cure of war. Robert McMaster of Vancouver presented the view of youth in an historical analysis of the present conflict, and Mrs. Alan Campbell proposed a woman's reasons for supporting the League.

Rev. C. S. Quinton, Dean of Columbia, presided and 200 people attended.

Mr. McKenzie opened his address with expression of the belief that the last war, not "the next one," had destroyed civilization. Previous conflicts had been struggles between people. The Great War was a struggle between conflicting points of view within civilization and in studying its aftermath, it could be said the house had actually fallen.

SYSTEM LOST ITS HEAD
Events transpiring since 1918 must convince one, he said, that the social, political and economic system had lost its head, just like a rooster running around after its head was chopped off.

The world war was an earthquake in the midst of the civilized world which had shaken the superstructure and loosened the foundations of society itself. A new order must now take the place of the old, and the sooner people realized this the further they would be toward realization of peace objectives.

Economic imperialism, Mr. McKenzie submitted, was one of the major causes of war. It could be traced through the ages from the time when man had to wrest his living from nature by fighting, had to battle with his neighbors for existence.

ITALY'S POSITION

Italy, he said, could not be blamed for needing more territory to keep her economic system going, but she must realize that the world had outgrown war as the instrument of acquiring it. The cure for economic imperialism was the conference table around which the powers must decide to lift the private restrictions of the open and unexploited areas of the world so that the needs of humanity could be recognized. Rational methods must replace force. Italy realized that war was a costly thing, but she also realized that she must bring to the attention of the world this need for rational apportionment of rights to territory.

A "new nationalism" which had arisen was indicated by the speaker as a second important cause of strife. This "new nationalism" which had exposed hatred and suspicion instead of reason and justice. It was the cumulative effect of ages, coming to the surface in Italy and Germany.

where the instrument of war had been glorified in the unification of internal factions.

TOLERANT NATIONALISM

On this continent, said the speaker, nationalism took a more tolerant form. A citizen could love another country while not loving his own country less. The British Empire had developed a collective system within itself which should be preached to the world.

"Let us not banish Italy from the League for her aggression in a time of need," he said. "It is a tribute to Mussolini's statesmanship that he has not withdrawn like Japan did. Kindness and tolerance are our most effective weapons."

He touched briefly upon racial antagonism as a further cause. In conclusion, he discussed how the League of Nations was working to weld the small people of the world as well as the large.

Mr. McMaster, who is president of the University of British Columbia branch of the Students' Christian Movement, treated the Italo-Ethiopian issue from both sides.

ETHIOPIA'S CASE

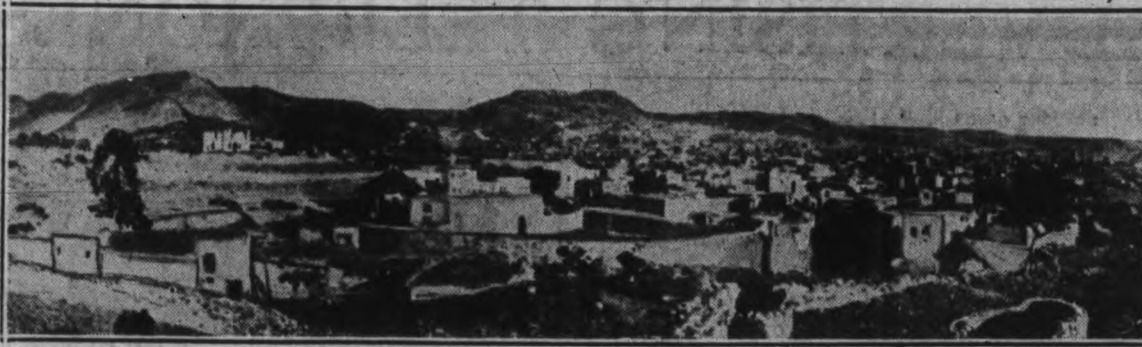

On the one hand, he said, Ethiopia appeared to have a simple, straightforward case. In 1906 Italy, France and Great Britain had agreed to maintain her status quo. This was reaffirmed in 1923, when she joined the League, and as late as September, 1934, when Italy agreed with her to submit any disputes to arbitration. Then three months later the border incident arose. Once again Ethiopia kept herself clear by applying immediately for League arbitration and actually offered to cede territory to maintain peace.

"Ethiopia has made a good showing," he said, "and her case is quite firm."

In approaching the Italian side, the speaker said that the "boy of Mussolini" must be discarded, as he was simply a product of conditions in Italy.

When Britain needed colonies from which to get her raw materials and

Time Ripe For Health Scheme

Hon. G. M. Weir Appeals to Liberals to Stand By Pledge of 1933

The time for health insurance is "over-ripe"; the time has come for action, declared Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, in a province-wide radio address yesterday evening.

Appealing for full support for the measure which will go before the Legislature next session, the minister submitted that health insurance would relieve and by degrees eliminate much suffering and sickness, disease and deformity; that it was a vital measure needed not only to end the depression but to make good its ravages, and that it would not mean an increased expenditure on health services.

The cost of treating the sick and protecting health in British Columbia now is $18,000,000 a year, not counting indirect costs through loss of time and energy, Dr. Weir said. This is much greater than the money required for the health insurance plan, covering only a part of the population.

Some people were afraid of the cost, but British Columbia was the wealthiest province per capita in the whole of Canada.

$11,000,000 FOR LIQUOR.
$4,000,000 FOR HEALTH

"We already pay for inadequate medical care, make no mistake about that," he said. "If we can afford $11,000,000 for liquor we certainly can afford $4,000,000 for health insurance, particularly when we remember that this $4,000,000 is not a new expenditure."

"Health insurance," he added, "is simply a sound business-like method of equitably spreading expenditures that are already being made."

The health of the people during the depression had declined, he said. Reduced incomes and widespread unemployment had increased the number suffering from sickness and invalidity who were unable to secure adequate care and medical attention.

To prove there had been physical depreciation, Dr. Weir said the following were facts: In 1934, 78,000 out of 97,000 school children examined in British Columbia had defects requiring early correction, chiefly teeth decay, tonsils and adenoids; in 1930, five out of eight Canadian people needing the service of trained nurses were unable to pay for their services; illness of from sixty to ninety days in hospital bankrupted 50 per cent of those with salaries of $2,000 to $5,000 for periods of from two to five years; and in British Columbia 1,000 out of 9,000 heads of families on relief were suffering partial disabilities.

ANSWERS CRITICS

Discussing criticism of the proposed measure, Dr. Weir said it was to be expected there would be opposition for such a comprehensive plan and no social reforms were made without vigorous argument.

"I am aware," he said, "that at the present time approaches are being made to members of the Legislature to induce them to defeat the health insurance bill at the next session.

"May I impress upon my fellow members the importance of their knowing the contents of the revised bill before committing themselves to any line of action. In the next place, I scarcely need to re-emphasize that the health insurance plan in the Liberal platform was a powerful influence in securing victory at the polls in 1933. The defeat of this bill—involving as it will a reasonable measure of health insurance—may result in disastrous consequences.

Let their be no betrayal of the pledge made in 1930."

The Credit Grantees' Association of Victoria at their weekly luncheon next Wednesday will be addressed by A. W. Walsh, bailiff for Victoria. The luncheon will be held in Spencer's dining-room, and Mr. Walsh's talk will be of value to anyone selling goods under contract.

2 Things to Do TO EASE COLD INSTANTLY

Discomfort and Ache Go Almost Instantly This Way

1. Take two "Aspirin" Tablets. Make sure you get "Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of taxing your system with strong medicines for a cold, try the way pictured above—the modern, easy way. Your own doctor will approve it. And it takes hold of even a bad cold almost immediately. The "Aspirin" you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "Aspirin" Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the Registered Trade-mark of the Bayer Company. Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

DEMAND AND GET "ASPIRIN"

—and the horse-cars

"Way back in the glamorous eighties, with its door-flipping hansom cabs, the only means of mass-transportation within the city was the ambulatory horse-drawn street car.

In the succeeding half-century, the form of public conveyance has experienced many evolutionary stages, culminating to-day in the modern motor-coach. Quiet, smooth-running, the motor-bus of to-day affords comfortable and convenient transportation to and from the business district. Traffic congestion in the shopping centre is relieved by its swift operation and by the convenience and safety of curb-loading.

The "Coach Lines" maintains a frequent bus service to urban and suburban Saanich. Information as to rates and schedules may be obtained at the Broughton Street Depot.

Lloyd George In New Campaign

Executive of His Council For Peace and Reconstruction in Britain to Be Enlarged to 250 Members

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 29.—Mr. Lloyd George will leave London for Tangier tomorrow on a two months' holiday. He will miss the state opening of Parliament next week and return about the time Parliament reassembles after the Christmas recess.

On his return the former Prime Minister plans a new crusade for peace and against poverty and unemployment. To this end the central body of his Council of Action for Peace and Reconstruction will be enlarged to about 250 members.

Of 350 candidates who replied favorably to the Council of Action's questionnaire in the general election campaign, sixty-seven were elected to the new House of Commons. They are not limited to one political party, but form an inter-party group.

The functions of this group, Mr. Lloyd George told The London News-Chronicle, will be "constructive and helpful. Questions will be put forward and debates arranged. Members of the group will take part not as members of a party, but as men who have made a special study of the issues under debate."

ON LIBERAL SIDE
The Lloyd-George family group on the other hand (the statesman himself, his son Gwilym, his daughter Megan and his relative by marriage, Major G. Owen), are now back in formal association with the opposition Liberals, who, following Sir Herbert Samuel's defeat, elected Sir Archibald Sinclair as their parliamentary leader.

"I have always been a Liberal," the white-haired Welshman remarked, "and I am still a Liberal."

Sir Archibald Sinclair was the chief Liberal whip when Mr. Lloyd George led the party in 1929. Mr. Lloyd George held him in high esteem, although in 1931 they drifted apart in controversy over Liberal participation in the National Government of that year.

ON FRONT BENCH
Mr. Lloyd George's connection with the official Liberals, however, is still rather loose—in the last Parliament.

CANSINO AND DE ARAGON, appearing at the Empire Theatre to-morrow evening.

Spain Famous For Its Dances

Spain has long been recognized as the land whose national dances have attained the highest artistic development of any country, and it has maintained this supremacy to the present day.

Love of the dance is a birthright of the Spaniard and each of the many provinces of Spain has its own favorite characteristic dance, handed down through many generations with its own traditional steps and interpretation, any violation of which is deeply resented.

The Cansino-de Aragon programme includes many of these famed traditional dances. Its opening number, "Seville," is one of these historic dances, whose success depends not only on the individual artistry of the two dancers but on the perfection of their teamwork. The closing number, "Jota Aragonesa," is another of these treasured dances from the province of Aragon. Full of rhythmic, it offers a fascinating glimpse of youthful love and courtship.

Another traditional number is "Tamborin," a popular dance of Madrid, in which Jose Cansino invariably electrifies his audience by the terrific tempo at which the dance is taken and the incredible speed of his movements.

The Cansino-de Aragon recital is scheduled for to-morrow evening at the Empire Theatre.

"The Dark Angel"
To Open To-morrow

"The Dark Angel," Samuel Goldwyn's gripping romantic drama, starring Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall, will be the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre for three days beginning to-morrow.

This powerful and beautiful love story, set in a lovely, quiet corner of rural England, reflects the hearts of a woman and two men—one of whom she loves, while the other loves her. A great emotional climax is reached when the man she loves comes to a realization of his love for her. Their happiness is short-lived, however, as the relentless forces of life tear them apart. Years after, when the girl has resigned herself to a betrothal to the other man, a kinder fate intervenes and the lovers are reunited.

Sidney Franklin, who handled the megaphone on "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "Smilin' Through" and other outstanding film productions, directed "The Dark Angel."

"Catching" Songs In Operetta

Some of the most attractive music in the whole field of light opera is written into "The Chocolate Soldier," which will be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings by the Victoria Civic Opera Association.

The chorus numbers are particularly rousing and there are any number of delightful solos, duets and trios. Sung by well-trained principals and chorus, these numbers should be given Victoria audiences next week in excellent style. Much work has been put into the production and finished performances can well be anticipated.

"Thank the Lord the War is Over," is one of the well-known male choruses, sung by the soldiers. One of the trios is "We, Too, Are Lonely," while the leading solo, after "My Hero," is "Falling in Love."

Christmas comes at least twice this year for Shirley Temple.

Bad Chaps Have Adventure

"Yes, we can," said the Wensel. "There's a big crowd of animals in the street in front of his bungalow. They're making so much noise the rabbit won't hear us go in and we can easily get him."

"Well, let's try it," he said. The Fox, who saw the new street being laid, but they didn't know anything about asphalt."

"Hop right down the middle of the street," said the Wensel. "I guess we'll get him."

But no sooner had the Bad Chaps stepped on the soft, warm, sticky asphalt, the melted tar, than their paws stuck fast and they were caught.

"Oh! Oh! Oh!" they howled, but they wouldn't pull themselves loose. Then Uncle Wiggly hopped back from the woods, and seeing the Bad Chaps caught he laughed loud and long and then

Our Faults Are Often Unknown To Us

Dorothy Dix

Days We Need To See Through Bright Glasses

THOSE OF US who take intelligent care of our health go to our physicians at least once a year and have them thump and prod us, and take our blood pressures, and listen to our hearts and see if our various and sundry organs are behaving themselves. If any of these are cutting up, we are doctored, or dieted, or rested until the trouble is corrected, if it is possible to do so.

When I return from one of these physical inspection tours, I always think of what a pity it is that we don't, every now and then, give our characters and our habits as well as our bodies a thorough going over to see if we are up to par, or whether we have acquired high-pitched tempers and chronic irritability and grouchy manners that creep upon us just as insidiously as any disease and are far more deadly.

So often we could cure ourselves of what ails us and makes us disagreeable to live with if we only diagnosed our symptoms and took the proper treatment. But we don't even know we have the faults we have, hence we never try to correct them. We just let them run on and the first thing we know we are socially dead. Nobody wants us around any more than they do a corpse.

Especially is it important that all middle-aged and elderly people should watch their step because we slump morally and mentally just as we do physically as we grow older, and our prejudices and our opinions harden even as do our arteries. So, if you are past fifty, one of the chief things to check up on is your point of view on life.

See if you are beginning to look at everything through dark glasses and to believe that the world is going to the dogs. Get a line on your opinion of the youth of to-day. Do you think they are all young hellions who are speeding to the devil in fast automobiles? Are you down on everything that is modern and, worst symptom of all, do you dwell regretfully on the good old times?

If you do, snap out of it. Quick. It is a sure sign you are getting to be a back number. Your ideas have begun to stiffen and you will be tiresome and senile in a few years if you don't limber them up and keep your mind supple.

Check up on your personal appearance. Spend an hour studying yourself in the mirror and see whether you have begun to get a hump on your back and a bay-window on your front, and your hair grows straggly and you favor your feet by wearing sloppy shoes. We can't all be Clark Gables and Jean Harlow, but we can make ourselves easy on the eyes of our fellow creatures. And most of us would do something about it if we only got a line on our looks.

Check up on your conversation. Keep tab on yourself to see if you are getting to be a repeater who tells the same stories over and over again. Note whether your favorite topic is yourself, your business, your children, your car, and whether you ever give the other fellow a chance to talk about himself and his family. Note whether you talk too much and whether people welcome you with a glad smile, or a hunted look comes into their eyes as you approach.

Check up on your manners. Are you courteous and considerate to all you meet, or gruff and surly? Do you eat like a pig, or a gentleman or lady? Do you grab the best of everything for yourself? Do you trample down those who stand in your way? If you have bad manners, perform some sort of a surgical operation on them. They are a worse handicap than any physical defect.

Check up on the way you treat your husbands and wives. Take the temperature of your affections for your mates and see if it hasn't got so low that you can scarcely detect that it is alive. See if fault-finding and picking on each other hasn't become such a chronic habit that you don't even know when you do it. Have you degenerated into becoming a perpetual nagger? Are you a little ray of sunshine in your home, or a wet blanket?

If you are a woman, have you slumped in your housekeeping? Have you lost all pride in making a home and let things go just any way? Do you set your family down to any kind of a sloppy mess, served on an untidy table, and think anything is good enough for a mere husband and children? Are you too busy with your bridge or reforming the heathens to do your own job?

Believe me, our mental health needs looking after as well as our physical, and we could save ourselves from worse tragedies than death if we only checked up on our manners and our morals and took some reliable remedy for our faults.

Uncle Wiggly's New Street

By HOWARD R. GARDNER

The day after Thanksgiving Uncle Wiggly was sitting in his Hollow Stump Bungalow, still feeling very happy and gay, when his wife said to him:

"Wiggly, aren't you going out adventuring?"

"Why are you so anxious for me to go adventuring?" he asked.

"Because you are getting too fat," answered the rabbit lady. "You ate such a big Thanksgiving dinner that you are fatter than ever, and you need some adventuring to get thin."

"That's a good idea, my dear," said Mr. Longears. "I'll get in my car and go for a ride."

"That isn't any way to get thin," laughed Mrs. Longears. "You need to hop, jump and exercise. That's the way to get out being a fat. You won't get thin riding in an auto."

But Uncle Wiggly didn't wait for his wife to finish talking. Not that he meant to be impolite, but he was in such a hurry to get in his auto that he didn't think. After having sprinkled some red pepper on the bologna sausage tires to make the wheels go faster, when, all of a sudden, a voice shouted:

"You can't drive out in the street with your car, Mr. Longears."

"Who are you and why not?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"I am the street ficer and we are putting a new street in front of your bungalow, Mr. Longears," answered a big dog gentleman wearing blue pants. "I'm sorry, but you can't take your auto out until we finish putting the hot asphalt on your street and until it gets cool. If you drive out now your car will get stuck in the hot, sticky asphalt, that is like tar."

"Oh, I wouldn't want that to happen," said the rabbit gentleman. "If my auto got stuck I could never go adventuring in it again. How soon before the new street will be cold and hard so I can ride on it?"

"Oh, in a few hours," said the street dog. "Leave your car in the garage and hop out on your paws if you want to adventure. It will be better for you to hop on your paws, anyhow, as you are too fat."

"That's just what my wife said," spoke Uncle Wiggly. "Very well, I'll go adventuring without my car."

Away he hopped on foot, after running his car back in the garage, and the street dog kept on putting hot, black, sticky asphalt down to make a nice, new smooth street in front of the bungalow.

Soon after the Wensel and the Fox met in the woods.

"Let's go get Uncle Wiggly," whispered the Wensel.

"Oh, we never can get him. He's too smart," said the Fox.

BAD CHAPS HAVE ADVENTURE

"Yes, we can," said the Wensel. "There's a big crowd of animals in the street in front of his bungalow. They're making so much noise the rabbit won't hear us go in and we can easily get him."
